

Small Business Security Tips

Information from students at The Learning Haven

A group of children from The Learning Haven are participating in a safety program. In a discussion about safety issues, their teacher, Ms. Chloe Wagner, asked the class to see if they could identify instances where safety would be important, in an effort to teach the kids how safety is important in everyone's lives in order to protect ourselves and others and to reinforce how safety issues surround us in everything we do.

Ms. Wagner challenged the class to find an article of potential use and benefit to sites working with the DoD SMCX. The students found a webpage on small business security and thought it was a very useful article to share:

This webpage from CCTV Camera World provides a list of "Top 10 Small Business Security Tips", with information and tips ranging from developing a security policy and scheduling regular document shredding to maintaining a safe work environment and planning for disaster.
