It has a frequently updated Star Map that shows any DoD site that received formal recognition for their SOHMS. The Star Map shows if there are DoD Star sites located nearby which could serve as a mentor.

You can find examples of “good” documentation and best practices collected during DoD SMCX on-site assessments on the website, as well. Review these examples if you have trouble developing a document. There is a variety of examples ranging from SOH programs, policy letters, and much more!
